family mansion at the head of Thirty-first street and property in the suburbs. Some time ago Mr. Dent completed a contract for the iron work of Claus contract for the iron work of Claus Spreekie's large sugar refiners in Philadelphis. The cause of Mr. Dent's assignment, as stated yesterday, was caused by his inability to collect debts due him. He had just completed a large contract for the heating apparatus of the Inter-Ocean Building on Ninth street, the remodeling of the heating apparatus of the Corcoran Art Gallery, iron work for the new Blees Liberry of on work for the new Riggs Library of Georgetown College, the heating ap-paratus of the new National Union In-
